 - (4) The fact that a customer can use a complaint processing and dispute resolving framework provided by a designated dispute resolving organization (excluding the designated dispute resolving organizations prescribed in Item 3) that conducts the dispute resolving business relating to the sale of securities set forth in each Item of the preceding Paragraph or a specified nonprofit corporation “Financial Instruments Mediation Assistance Center (FINMAC)” to which the Association delegates the complaint and dispute resolving business as prescribed in Article 78-2, Paragraph 1 of the Articles of Association, and the contact information on such organizations (limited only to the case where there is no designated dispute resolving organization as prescribed in Item 3).
 3. When entering into a contract on sale of securities set forth in each Item of Paragraph 1 with a customer, an Association Member must explain the matters set forth in each Item of the preceding Paragraph in advance in a manner and to an extent necessary to enable the customer to understand such matters in light of knowledge, experience, and assets of the customer and the purpose of entering into the contract.
 4. If an Association Member enters into a contract of sale of securities within one year from the date of delivery of an alert document (including the date when the alert document is deemed to have been delivered) for securities that are similar to the securities to be sold this time (limited to those set forth in Paragraph 1, Items 1, 3, and 4 (for those set forth in Item 1, excluding the OTC derivatives transactions, etc. prescribed in Article 3, Item 5 of the Articles of Association)), the alert document shall be regarded to be delivered on such contract execution date, and the provision in proviso of Paragraph 1 shall apply.

(Confirmation upon Accepting an Order for Margin Transactions)

Article 7 Each time an Association Member accepts an order from its customer for Margin Transactions, it must confirm which type of transactions the customer intends to conduct; namely whether it relates to organized margin transactions or general margin transactions, etc.

(Collection of the Confirmation Document from the Customer)

Article 8 When an Association Member enters into a contract with a customer for Sales and Purchases or Other Transactions in share option certificates, investment equity subscription right certificates, or covered warrant (excluding sale of securities other than Margin Transactions in the customer account) or for Securities-Related Derivatives Transactions, etc. or Specified OTC Derivatives Transactions, etc. for the first time, it shall collect a confirmation document regarding such transactions, etc. from the customer in order for the customer to understand the risks involved in the financial instruments transaction, fees, and other details described in the documents related to such a contract that are set forth in the provisions of Article 117, Paragraph 1, Item 1 (a) through (d) of the FIBCOO (hereinafter referred to as “Documents to be Delivered prior to Conclusion of Contract”) as well as to confirm that the transaction is made according to the customer’s own judgment and responsibility.

2. When an Association Member enters into a contract with a customer for Sale of OTC derivatives transactions, etc. (the OTC derivatives transactions, etc. prescribed in Article 3, Item 5 of the Articles of Association, and limited to Securities-Related Derivatives Transactions (excluding transactions that fall under all the requirements in Article 3, Items 1 (a), (c), and (d) of “Rules Concerning CFD Transactions” and transactions prescribed in Article 116, Paragraph 1, Item 3 (a) or (b) of the FIBCOO) and Specified OTC Derivatives Transactions, etc.; the same shall apply hereinafter in this Article), it shall obtain a confirmation document on such OTC derivatives transactions from the customer for the purpose of ensuring that the customer understands the matters set forth below and conducts the OTC derivatives transactions, etc. on its own judgment and responsibility:

- (1) Details of important matters set forth in Article 3, Paragraph 4;
- (2) The contract is tradable by the customer in consideration of the loss amount that can be acceptable by the customer and the assumed loss amount based on the amount of possible loss from the contract (including the termination clearance fee (expected amount) due to any early cancellation), and the effect of such loss amount on customer’s business management or assets.
- (3) The contract can work as an effective hedge tool for continuing customer’s business operation until the transaction is closed in consideration of the business condition and the competitiveness in the market (limited to the case that such contract with the customer (excluding retail customers) is for hedging purpose);
- (4) The contract does not make the forecasting of customer’s business more difficult (limited to the case where such contract with the customer (excluding retail customers) is for hedging purpose);
- (5) If the customer does not accept the OTC derivatives transactions, etc. that are solicited to the customer, such non-acceptance will not affect loan transactions with the customer in the future (only for the case where the Association Member conducts a loan transaction with such customer (excluding retail customers)).

3. When an Association Member enters into a contract on sale of Complex Structured Bonds Similar to OTC Derivatives Transactions, or Complex Investment Trust Similar To OTC Derivatives Transactions, it shall obtain a confirmation document on such sale from the customer for the purpose of ensuring that the customer understands the matters set forth below and purchases such product in response to such sale on its own judgment and responsibility:
 - (1) Details of important matters set forth in Article 3, Paragraph 4;
 - (2) The contents of contract allows the customer to make transactions in consideration of the loss amount that can be acceptable by the customer and the assumed loss amount based on the amount of possible loss from the contract (including the sale proceeds at the time of early sale (expected amount)), and the effect of such amount of loss on the customer's business management or assets.
 - (3) If the customer does not accept Complex Structured Bonds Similar to OTC Derivatives Transactions, or a Complex Investment Trust Similar to OTC Derivatives Transactions, which are solicited to the customer, such non-acceptance will not affect loan transactions with the customer in the future (only for the case where the Association Member conducts a loan transaction with such customer (excluding retail customers)).
4. When an Association Member intends to conclude a contract related to the Securities-Related Derivative Transactions, etc. that are the Binary Option Transactions, etc. (the Binary Option Transactions, etc. as prescribed in Article 2, Item 7 of the "Rules Concerning Binary Option Transactions") with a customer, the Association Member shall collect the confirmation letter prescribed in Article 12 of the Rules Concerning Binary Option Transactions in lieu of the confirmation document prescribed in Paragraphs 1 and 2.

(Exceptional Cases for Confirming the Intentions of the Customer)

Article 9 In the event that a Special Member conducts financial instruments intermediary service as a registered financial institution (acts set forth in the provisions of Article 33, Paragraph 2, Item 3 (c) and Item 4 (b) of the FIEA (excluding those regarded as the Securities pursuant to the provisions of Article 2, Paragraph 2 of the FIEA and related to the rights as set forth in each Item of the same Paragraph); the same shall apply hereinafter), if either a Regular Member or a Special Member confirms the intention or collects the confirmation document pursuant to the provisions of the preceding two Articles (hereinafter referred to as "Confirmation of Intentions, etc."), other Association Member concerned is not required to obtain the Confirmation of Intentions, etc., notwithstanding the provisions in each Article mentioned above.

(Prevention of Confusion with Deposits, Etc.)

Article 10 When a Special Member handles Securities as set forth in the provisions of Article 33, Paragraph 2, Items 1 through 4 of the FIEA (excluding government bonds securities, etc. (the Securities set forth in Article 2, Paragraph 1, Item 1 and 2 of the FIEA, and the Securities set forth in the same Paragraph, Item 3 and Item 5 (limited to those for which the redemption and interest payment are guaranteed by the government); the same shall apply hereinafter) and securities index consisting of government bond securities only) as the Registered Financial Institutions Business prescribed in the provisions of Article 5, Item 3 of the Articles of Association (hereinafter referred to as "Registered Financial Institutions Business"), it must provide the customers with explanations to prevent the customer from mistaking the Securities for deposits, etc. by an appropriate method such as distributing documents or other means, depending on the business methods and based on the knowledge, experience and asset condition of the customer.

3. If an Association Member receives information from J-IRISS as a result of the reconciliation prescribed in Paragraph 1, it shall not use such information for any purpose other than the preparation of insider registration card.

(Establishment of System for Management of Discretionary Trading)

Article 16 An Association Member must, in order not to lack in investor protection, impede fair transactions and undermine trust in the Association Member, establish an adequate system for the management of Sale and Purchase or Other transactions of Securities, etc. that are effected on the basis of the contracts set forth in Article 123, Paragraph 1, Item 13 of the FIBCOO (hereinafter referred to as “Discretionary Trading”).

(Ensuring of Safety of Transactions)

Article 17 An Association Member must, in accepting an order from a new customer or a customer for a large-lot transaction, endeavor to ensure the safety of the transaction by such means as having the customer concerned deposit the whole or a part of the money for purchasing securities or securities for sale with the Association Member concerned in advance.

(Proper Management of Transactions Related to Customers' Orders)

Article 18 When an Association Member conducts Sale and Purchase or Other Transactions of Securities, etc., it must clearly distinguish the transactions ordered by customers from the transactions executed on its own account.

2. In Sale and Purchase or Other Transactions of Securities, etc., an Association Member must properly manage the transactions ordered by customers by immediately preparing, keeping and maintaining order slips with respect to the customers' orders and by inputting numbers, etc. designed to distinguish them from transactions conducted on its own account via a terminal.
3. An Association Member must establish internal rules, which prescribe the proper operation and management of a time-recording machine, elimination of improper operation of computers, etc. in order to contribute to the proper management of the transactions ordered by customers set forth in the preceding two Paragraphs.

(Best Execution Duty)

Article 19 An Association Member must develop a system that is sufficient to properly fulfill the best execution duties prescribed in the provisions of Article 40-2 of the FIEA.

(Provision of Facilities such as Guarantees by Regular Members to their Customers)

Article 20 A Regular Member must conduct proper management of the provision of facilities to customers, such as guarantees and mediation, etc. (including all acts, irrespective of the form, by which a Regular Member or its officer or employee takes part in the customer's borrowing of money or securities) incidental to the customer's borrowing of money or securities in relation to Sale and Purchase or Other Transactions of Securities, etc. so that the facilities are not excessive in light of the value of the transaction conducted by the customer and other factors.

(Prohibition against Provision of Facilities such as Loan Extension by Special Members to Their Customers)

Article 21 When a Special Member conducts or solicits the conduct of a transaction related to the registered financial institution business to a customer, it must not promise to provide any special benefits in connection with loans or guarantees to the customer.

(Prohibition, Etc. against Automatic Credit Extension by Special Members)

Article 22 A Special Member shall not make an automatic credit extension to customers for the purpose
